Dear Parish Family,

“What must I do to inherit eternal life?” Asks a rich young man.

Not too many of us commit murder or adultery. Not too many kidnap or take hostages or give false testimony in a court of law. Most are ready to honor and care for their parents in their old age. In other words most of us are basically decent and honest and could make the same claim as does the wealthy man who runs up to Jesus in this Sunday’s Gospel. Jesus lets the man know that keeping the commandments which he did is not enough. For the rich young man, his money was a problem. He was good – kept all the commandments but maybe missed out on the main one, to love God and neighbor. Jesus’ heart went out to him in love, his misery and his wealth. His wealth blocked him from receiving love...what could have brought great joy to his heart was blocked.

Of course there is nothing wrong with wealth but if not watched, it can be a source of misery and not joy. While wealth should be seen as a symbol of blessing, it only brings true joy when shared. Often, we notice that when people grow richer they may lose friends. Wealth and its trappings can begin to stunt love. It could be the same with other things we get attached to – property, health, good looks, all that keeps us from real love. For Jesus – Sharing is the way forward. True happiness is attained by those who take the risk of sharing their goods with those in need.

In fact, Jesus did that himself. He shared his eternal life of happiness with us to death. He shared the love of his heart. The grateful heart will encourage us to share and to remain human and humble.

Lord help me be poor in heart, knowing that all I am is from you.

In Christ,
*Fr. Peter

Apologetics Without Apology Year of Reading the Bible

Wisdom 7:7-11, (Psalm 90:12-17)

Hebrews 4:12-13, Mark 10:17-30

Scriptural Background: In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus is preparing to leave the area of Galilee "beyond the Jordan" on his way to Jerusalem (Mark 10:10, 17, 32). He continues his instruction on discipleship. Jesus is approached by a man (Matthew tells us he is a young man, Matthew 19:20) who asks what he must do to enter the Kingdom of Heaven (verse 17). We find out later that this young man is also rich (v. 22). At the time, wealth was considered to be a sign of divine favor, if not election. Jesus cites to him the last seven of the Ten Commandments—the ones having to do with love of neighbor (Exodus 20:2-17; Deuteronomy 5:6-21). He also adds a prohibition against fraud which, while not one of the Ten Commandments, may be inferred from Deuteronomy 24:14.). The rich young man assures Jesus that he has kept these from his youth. Jesus, looking into this young man's heart, sees something there that will cause him to be the only one in the Gospels to refuse a personal call from the Lord.

Questions for Reflection:

- In the 1st Reading, the writer is asking for wisdom, a gift he knows should be prized above all gifts. What kind of things does God want us to value and ask him for? What kind of things do I ask of God in my prayer time?
- In questioning the rich young man's address to him as "good teacher," and pointing out that "no one is good but God alone," is Jesus denying his divinity, or affirming it? Why or why not?

Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time, YEAR B

<https://bible.usccb.org/bible/readings/101021.cfm>

Reading 1 Wisdom 7:7-11

I prayed, and prudence was given me;
I pleaded, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.
I preferred her to scepter and throne,
and deemed riches nothing in comparison with her,
nor did I liken any priceless gem to her;
because all gold, in view of her, is a little sand,
and before her, silver is to be accounted mire.
Beyond health and comeliness I loved her,
and I chose to have her rather than the light,
because the splendor of her never yields to sleep.
Yet all good things together came to me in her company, and countless riches at her hands.

Reading II Hebrews 4:12-13

Brothers and sisters:
Indeed the word of God is living and effective,
sharper than any two-edged sword,
penetrating even between soul and spirit,
joints and marrow,
and able to discern reflections and thoughts of the heart.
No creature is concealed from him,
but everything is naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must render an account.

Gospel Mark 10:17-30

As Jesus was setting out on a journey, a man ran up, knelt down before him, and asked him, "Good teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" Jesus answered him, "Why do you call me good? No one is good but God alone. You know the commandments: You shall not kill; you shall not commit adultery; you shall not steal; you shall not bear false witness; you shall not defraud; honor your father and your mother." He replied and said to him, "Teacher, all of these I have observed from my youth." Jesus, looking at him, loved him and said to him, "You are lacking in one thing. Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor and you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me." At that statement his face fell, and he went away sad, for he had many possessions. Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, "How hard it is for those who have wealth to enter the kingdom of God!" The disciples were amazed at his words. So Jesus again said to them in reply, "Children, how hard it is to enter the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for one who is rich to enter the kingdom of God." They were exceedingly astonished and said among themselves, "Then who can be saved?" Jesus looked at them and said, "For human beings it is impossible, but not for God. All things are possible for God." Peter began to say to him, "We have given up everything and followed you." Jesus said, "Amen, I say to you, there is no one who has given up house or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or lands for my sake and for the sake of the gospel who will not receive a hundred times more now in this present age: houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with persecutions, and eternal life in the age to come."

CELEBRATE HALLOWEEN THE CATHOLIC WAY

OCTOBER

ALL HALLOWS EVE ALSO KNOWN AS "HALLOWEEN"

We call October 31 "All Hallows Eve," also known as "Halloween," because it refers to the evening before All Hallows Day, or All Saints Day, which is on November 1.

How we can celebrate:

Dress up like little saints or everyday heroes who are serving the needs of the community. A popular alternative to a Halloween celebration is an All Saints Party.

NOVEMBER

ALL HALLOWS MASS OR ALL SAINTS DAY

November 1 is a special day when the Church celebrates with all the people who have died and are now with God in heaven. Any person who enters into the Glory of Heaven is considered to be a saint. We do not know the names of all the saints. The Feast of All Saints is a day to remember the example of all holy men and women who strove in their earthly life to serve the Lord and those in need.

How we can celebrate:

Go to Mass and honor all the saints and loved ones who are in heaven. Read the life story of a saint and ask for their intercessory prayers.

NOVEMBER

ALL SOULS DAY

November 2 is a special day called the Feast of All Souls when we remember those baptized Christians who are believed to be in purgatory because they died with the guilt of lesser sins on their souls. The prayers of the faithful on earth will help cleanse these souls in order to fit them for the vision of God in heaven.

How we can celebrate:

Dedicate this day to prayer and remembrance. Pray at home or visit the graves of the faithful departed and offer a rosary prayer for their soul. Honor your loved one by lighting a candle in the church and pray for them.

Faith Action 25th Anniversary Reflection:
“One-on-Ones”’: Building Collective Strength
 by Patrick Zukemura, former Faith Action (FA) Organizer

RESULTS OF ONE-ON-ONES brought huge numbers to 2010’s Accountability Assembly held in First Methodist Church. Faith Action members listened to candidates for Mayor, Lt. Gov., and Governor who stated their stands on issues. Photo appeared on the cover of the 2010’s Annual Report which described accomplishments and listed monetary investments from members, community, and businesses that year.

A quote from President Barack Obama: “As some of you may know, I got my start as a community organizer with a Gamaliel affiliate in Chicago... I learned that meaningful change always begins at the grassroots, and that engaged citizens working together can accomplish extraordinary things.”

In 2005 as a Faith Action organizer, I was fortunate and privileged to attend a weeklong national training with the Gamaliel Foundation in San Diego.

Attendees were ordinary citizens learning how to unleash the power within themselves to collectively impact the social, political, environmental, and economic decisions that affect their lives.

The most valuable practice I learned was one-on-ones. This process emphasizes the importance of one person taking the lead to have a conversation with one other person to start and sustain relationships and to find out what’s important to that person.

As organizers, we were to do 25 one-on-ones per week. Just imagine, in 52 weeks we related to people in a personal way 1,300 times. The collective result is powerful.

The way FA finances its work also relies on collective power. Its members don’t have much money, but collectively amazing things can happen. DART (Direct Action and Research Training Center) trained FA members on “organized money.” Again, it emphasized the one-on-one process. Examples in circa 2005:1) An Our Lady of the Mount Catholic Church member went door-to-door in her neighborhood to tell FA’s story and raised money to reach her church’s pledged goal. 2) Annually, we asked corporate businesses for $5,000 donations. A banker offered $50,000 so we would not have to come back for 10 years. We thanked him for his generosity, but we insisted that the $5,000 donations made annually helped to renew our commitments to each other.

Today in 2021, our Unit and Corporate Campaigns continue to raise money from our members, our community, and businesses.

There are 2 kinds of power – people and money. Let’s faithfully do our one-on-ones to keep building Faith Action as a grassroots organization and raise money collectively. Together we can accomplish extraordinary things for the common good.
