St. Vincent de Paul Society—Submitted by Melodie Sasaki

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus affirms that to be a disciple we must also sit at his feet and listen to him. St. Vincent de Paul taught that it is only in prayer that we can give selfless loving service to those who are poor. This week, please say a special prayer each day for our poor and forgotten neighbors.

SCHOOL NEWS

Submitted by Earl Walker

St. John Vianney school is a faith-based community where belief in God is part of the everyday environment. Faith permeates every aspect of your parish school. We celebrate our faith at school Masses. We pray at the beginning of each day and at the beginning of each class. Every meeting begins with prayer. Our faculty and staff are role models who share their faith, their talents, and their time with the students.

As a faith-based community, we emphasize those values which encourage students to accept others rather than exclude them, to understand the difference between right and wrong, and to commit themselves to serve God by serving others. Our students grow to understand their faith and their responsibilities as Christians.

It is not too late to enroll your child in your remarkable parish school. Application are still being accepted. If you need assistance, financial aid and scholarships are available to help. Call 808-261-4651 for more information.

CATHOLIC FAITH CORNER

A Year of the Holy Spirit The Gift of Knowledge

The Gift of Knowledge gives to a person a kind of knowledge that is spiritual. How does this happen?

Firstly, a person knows that God loves us and will never abandon us. Only He is worthy of all our love. He must be the first priority of our lives.

Secondly, the gift of knowledge assists in the sanctification of the soul in three ways: first, a knowledge of introspection, enabling the person to see the state of his soul; second, a knowledge of detachment from material things; and third, a knowledge of repentance for sins from the misuse of material things or when they have become obstacles to God.

Thirdly, a person has a sense of faith, sensus fidei; meaning that the person has a divine instinct about whether or not something, like a devotion, is in accord with the faith. A person knows whether something is of God or not. St. John speaks of a “discernment of spirits”: “Do not trust every spirit but put the spirits to a test to see if they belong to God,” but “anyone who has knowledge of God gives us a hearing,” (1 Jn 4:1-6).

Finally, it gives us “knowledge” of how to help others, particularly in spiritual ways. For example, the Holy Spirit guides a priest to know what to say to a penitent in the confessional or to know what to preach to his congregation. Moreover, some of the saints, like St. Padre Pio, could even read souls, knowing the true spiritual disposition of a penitent.

Matthew: The King and His Kingdom shows how Jesus fulfills God's promises to Israel and establishes his kingdom on earth. Through references to the Old Testament promises of God to his people and the messages God sent them through the prophets, Matthew provides the key to understanding the rest of the New Testament and Christ as the fulfillment of God's plan.

Jeff Cavins explains how Jesus is challenging and empowering us to achieve a new level of holiness and how, to live it, we must be thoroughly immersed in the kingdom of heaven on earth, the Church.

“Once you start learning, he makes you hunger for more. Jeff pulls everything you need to know out of the Bible, and it all starts to make sense like it never did before.”
